Olga Esipova is an SAP Development Architect passionate about integration topics. She joined SAP 11 years ago because she strongly believes in the company's approach of integrated systems and business processes. She has a wealth of experience in the software design and in the construction of large-scale data-intensive SAP's Industry Solution for Utilities. She was involved in the projects related deregulation for Utilities applications, CRM for Utilities, Demand Side Management for Utilities, and Multichannel Foundation for Utilities.

This is her first project which involves GIS integration where she again tries to integrate Geo-spatial business processes where core engineering data is in GIS system with business information and services which are running on SAP systems.
