ESRI HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES GIS CONFERENCE

Making Place Matter

Where someone lives, works, and plays has an enormous impact on their well-being. At the Esri Health and Human Services GIS Conference, you'll get a new perspective on the world of health by exploring the power of place. Connect with leaders from across the industry to see how intelligent maps and analysis can help you eliminate disparities, drive more informed decision-making, and transform the health of your community.

Why attend?

- Experience lessons learned and case studies from innovators across the health and human services spectrum
- Connect with leaders and decision makers that use GIS to foster better health outcomes
- Discover the value and ROI of GIS
- Explore innovative solutions from Esri's partners in health and human services
- Get real-world demonstrations of the ArcGIS platform
